sight, which it is estimated will yield at least 100 ounces to the ton.

Buenos Ayres, October 17th.

Since the announcement of the rupture of the coalition of the Mitre and Boca parties it has become known there is a Cabinet crisis. Two of the Ministers have already resigned. A caucus summoned to consider the merits of the candidates for the Presidency demanded the formation of a new Ministry representing all political parties. It is stated now that Boca intends to retire from political life and stand for Europe. Mitre's resignation of the Presidential candidacy is irrevocable.

Berlin, October 17th.

The bankers of this city, who have the best information from Paris and St. Petersburg, utterly discredit the reports regarding the success of the Russian loan.

The North German Gazette gives prominence to a semi-official statement published by the Vienna press at a recent conference between De Glers, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Rudini the Italian Premier, relating principally to eastern affairs. De Glers tried but failed to convince the Italian Premier that the interests of Russia and Italy and Bulgaria and the Dardanelles were identical. Rudini declared England and Italy had identical interests and a common policy, though they did not desire to attack Russia.

The negotiations between United States Minister Phelps and Chancellor von Caprivi for the reduction of duty on American grain and bread-stuffs proceed. It is not likely, however, that anything will be decided upon before the new Austrian treaty of commerce is concluded. The reduction of the tariff on American pork products is also involved with the pending German treaty. It is expected Minister Phelps will secure for America equal privileges with Austria.

Herr Stoffel, recently elected Deputy for Sevigne, has published a significant letter, in which he says the Alsatiens no longer desire a union with France, the new generation which has sprung up since 1870 having become Germanized.

Berlin, October 18th.

Notwithstanding his promotion to be the Conservative leader of the Commons it is reported that Balfour will retain his position as Chief Secretary for Ireland.

The Chronicle this morning thinks that Salisbury would have preferred another Parliamentary leader to Balfour, but he was obliged to accede to the wishes of his party, unless Hartington had consented to convert the coalition into a permanent union. Balfour is not likely to be as docile to the ruling of the triumvirate—Salisbury, Hartington and Chamberlain—as was Smith. The appointment may be regarded as a gambler's throw—in hope that the new leader will have a beneficial effect upon the coming election.

The Times says that only the dullest malignity can pretend that Balfour has not earned his promotion. It is absurd to talk of nepotism. The Marquis of Salisbury had no more power to lift his nephew, unless the party divided it than Gladstone would have to make either of his sons Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Sir Morell Mackenzie contributed a letter to the Sunday Times to-day on the prevailing discussion, "Should Parsons Smoke?" He said: "To me it seems that the persons themselves are the best judges whether smoking is inconsistent with their cloth."

The only thing that concerns the laity is the kind of tobacco used by the clerical devotees of the weed when they smoke in public. To my mind there would be nothing unseemly in the spectacle of an archbishop smoking a cigar, like Mr. Spurgeon, to the glory of God, in Piccadilly, but I should consider him a public nuisance if he insisted on poisoning the air with the acrid fumes of a penny we-4."

Paris, October 18th.

Great interest was caused yesterday by the report from Simi, I. de, that an English doctor there had succeeded in discovering, separating and neutralizing the special malady of leprosy. A correspondent called upon M. Pasteur to-day to obtain his views.

The great bacteriologist said: "The news of the discovery of leprosy is not surprising to me. In fact with the progress of science and by following the lines already laid down, I have not the slightest doubt that the microbes of all diseases which attack the human body will be discovered and cultivated. How to exterminate them is quite another question."

The sudden death of Inspector-General Acuñas of the French Home Office has caused a sensation. While visiting a woman with whom he was improperly intimate he took an overdose of a drug as a stimulant, and the effect was fatal. He was a married man, and the revelation of his death under such circumstances was a most painful shock to his friends.

The Gaulois to-day publishes an interview with King Leopold of Belgium. He indignantly denied that there was any secret treaty with Germany. Belgium's neutrality would be strictly observed, he said, in the event of a conflict between France and Germany.

Berlin, October 18th.

The case of Helm, charged with the murder of Watchman Breton, has been brought to the notice of the Kaiser. It has given his majesty another opportunity of showing his deep interest in all that concerns his people's welfare, for he has become aware of the painful impression produced by the increasing numbers of cases of public immorality.

He at once sent orders to the hunting chateau of the Minister of Justice, Dr. von Schelling, at Remington, to take drastic measures to remedy the existing evils, and, above all, to clear the name of those whose misdemeanors have been flagrantly open.

Those who claim to know say there will be a vigorous campaign against immorality, and the criminal prosecution of people living immoral lives will follow. It is said that a proposition was made that magistrates be empowered to order the lathi in certain cases, and that the Kaiser favors it.

The Empress has just ordered new dresses from Paris. The mourning recently caused on account of the Grand Duchess Paul's death cannot be worn for the death of the late King of Wurtemberg, as the etiquette of the German Court demands that distinct respect be paid to each deceased king, grand duke, prince or princess. No secondhand mourning can be worn.

Rome, October 18th.

The Empress has just ordered new dresses from Paris. The mourning recently caused on account of the Grand Duchess Paul's death cannot be worn for the death of the late King of Wurtemberg, as the etiquette of the German Court demands that distinct respect be paid to each deceased king, grand duke, prince or princess. No secondhand mourning can be worn.

The new King of Wurtemberg is studious but genial, every inch a soldier and a King, yet capable of being a comrade of the humblest of his subjects, so simple are his tastes. He is a musician of no mean ability, and has composed a waltz which met the approbation of Wagner.

His Majesty has a warm regard for the German Emperor. Queen Charlotte is a handsome, spirituelle woman under 50. She commands many of the qualities of the German hausfrau, with those of the French grand dame.

Rome (Italy), October 18th.

The earthquake, which at the island of Pantelleria and vicinity continued for hours, has arisen in the bed of the sea on the coast of Pantelleria, which discharges masses of stones to great effect.

Queretaro (Ireland), October 18th.

Since 3 o'clock this afternoon heavy rain and wind has prevailed, accompanied by an abnormally high tide. The custom-house is flooded and many craft were swamped. All local traffic is suspended. The cross-channel steamer report that the severity of the storm is unprecedented.

Berne (Switzerland), October 18th. The plebiscite has resulted in the adoption of the new tariff and the State bank-note monopoly.

London, October 19th.

The latest development in the affairs of the Hansard Union, which recently failed, is that, backed by the opinions of Sir Horace Davey, Q.C., as to the circumstances under which the corporation seized the property of the union, a large body of shareholders, backed up by trade creditors, have united for the purpose of instituting proceedings against the corporation and its Receiver for the recovery of damages for alleged trespass and unlawful seizure. It is understood that damages will be laid at £1,000,000, and that several leading counsel have been retained. The corporation was put in the hands of a Receiver in February, claiming to be entitled to do so in connection with certain debenture transactions with the union. The step led to the commencement of winding-up proceedings.

The Half Moon Gazette this afternoon, referring to the appointment of Balfour as First Lord of the Treasury, and therefore as the Conservative Leader of the Commons, in succession of the late William Henry Smith, says: "The appointment is no bad thing for the opposition. We prefer to meet fighting men. It will be nothing but a boon to the Liberals to have opposed to them a man specially identified with conciliation in its most defiant form."

Mrs. Parnell, widow of Parnell, the Irish leader, continues in a very weak and precarious condition. She is unable to sleep without the aid of drugs and cannot take solid food.

Rome, October 19th.

The Pope has written to Haenel, organiser of the French workingmen's pilgrimages which recently visited this city, expressing bitter grief at seeing French pilgrims "abandoned without provocation to the attacks of an ungovernable populace." The Pope, in this letter, adds that he is deeply grateful to the pilgrims who came to Rome, and "to those who are prevented from coming by violence and iniquitous hatred" he sends his blessing.

Berlin, October 19th.

Ex-King Millet will soon publish a novel entitled "King Stanke and Queen Xenia," precisely the name borne by a book published not long ago by Queen Natacha, in which she made serious charges against her husband. Millet's book is expected to give a further insight into Court scandals.

A dispatch from Breslau, capital of the province of Silesia, says that by a railroad collision, to-day, at Kollnitz, five persons were killed and many injured.

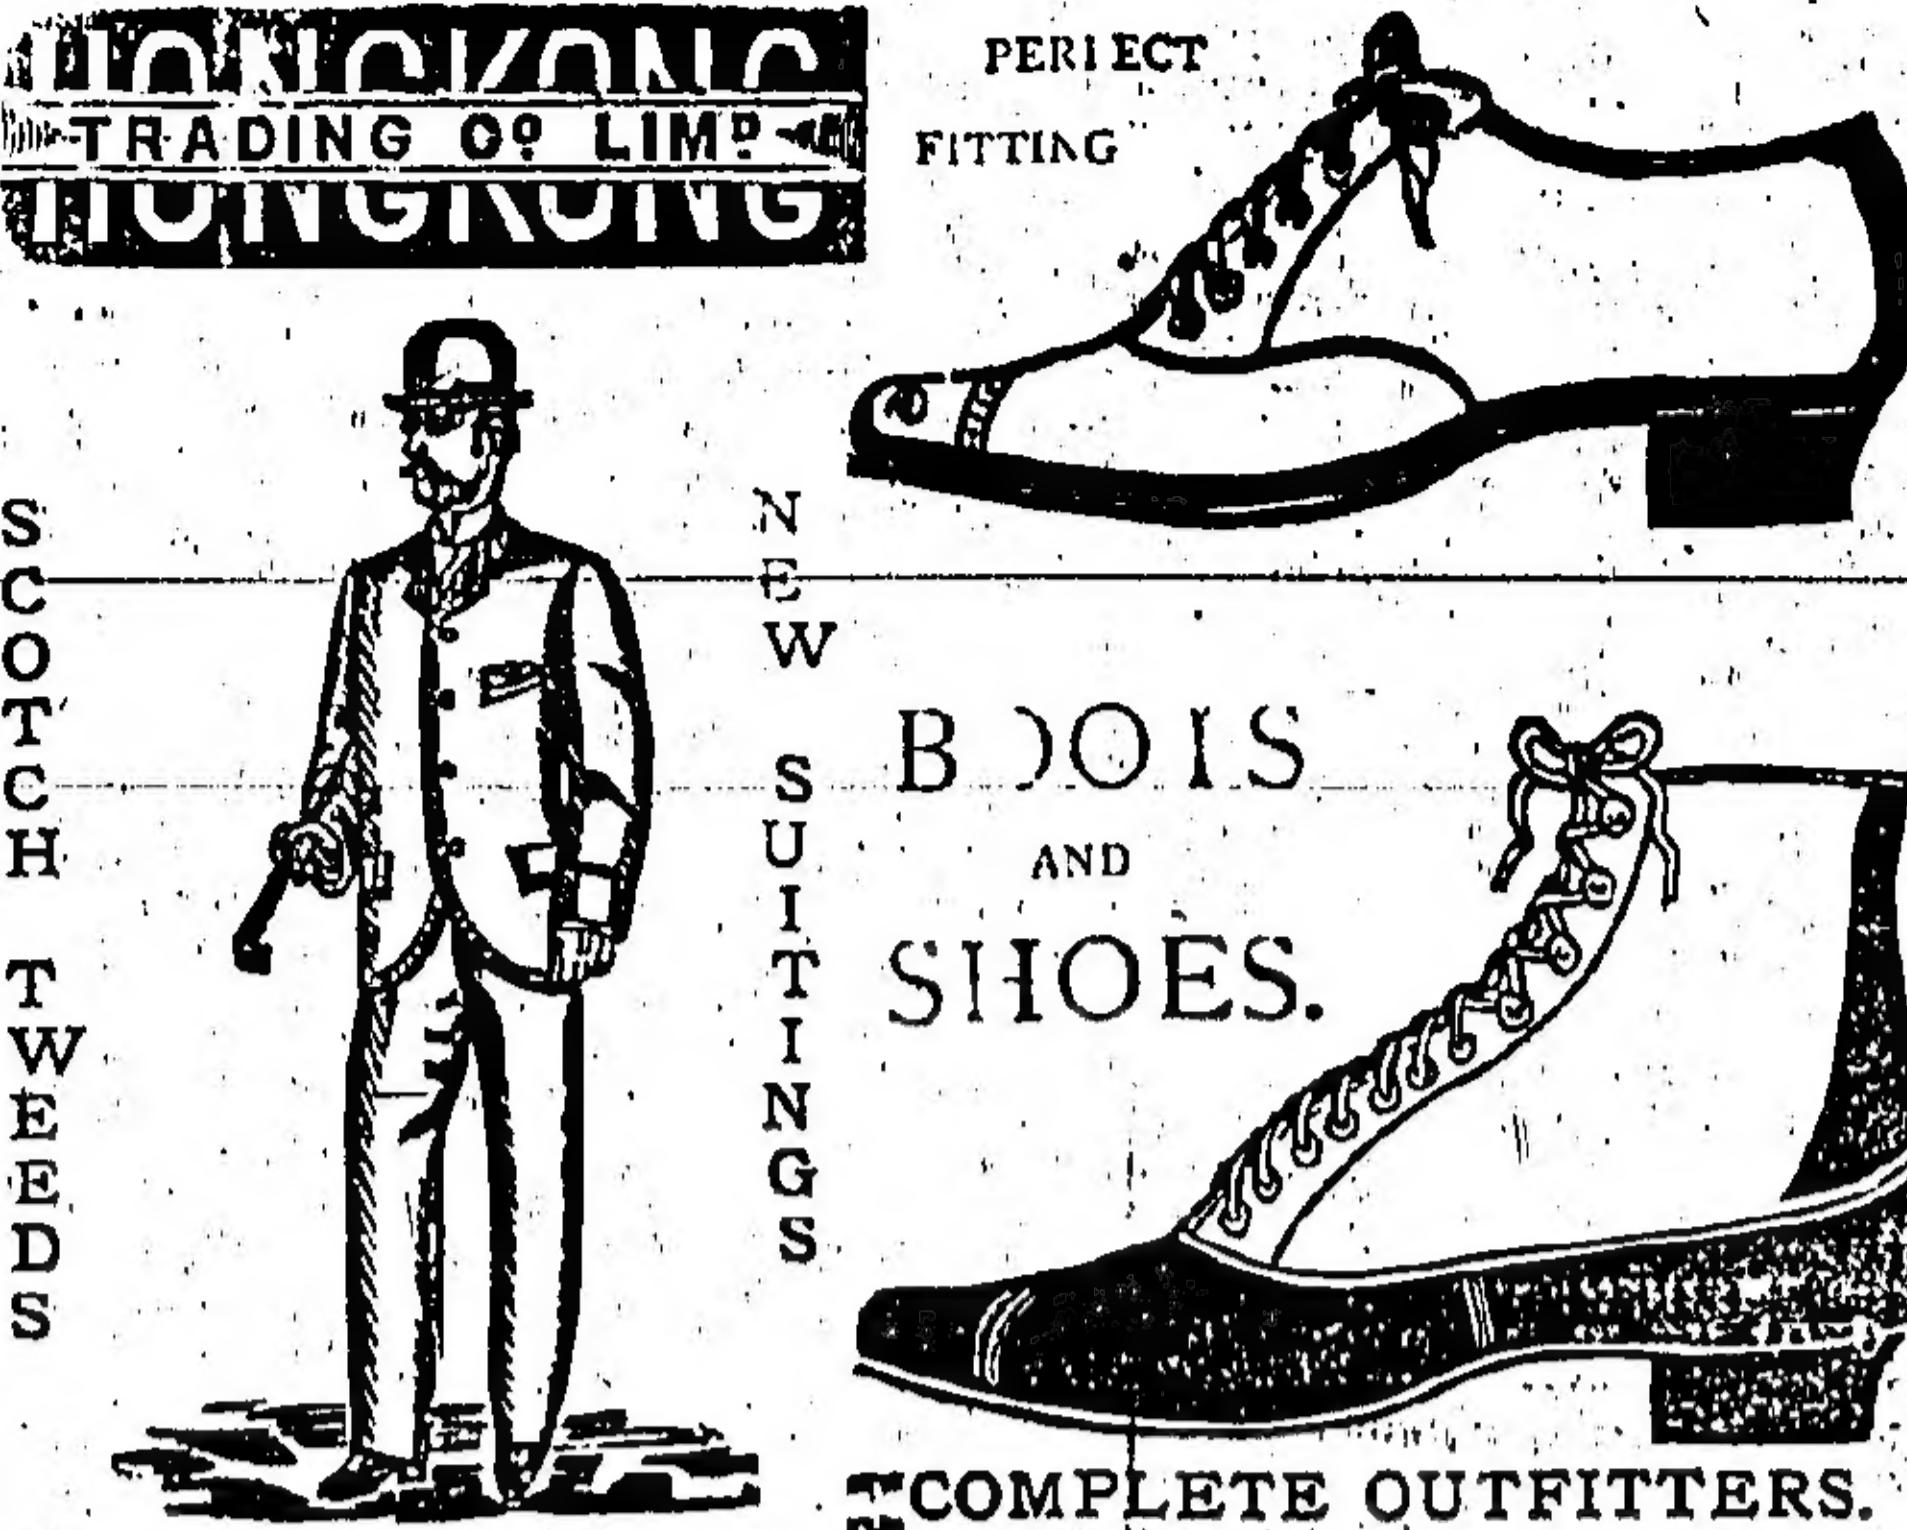

Constantinople, October 19th.

It is said the Sultan has signified to Russia his disapproval of the proposed passage of a ship of war carrying the Russian Grand Duke George through the Dardanelles, and that the Porte is preparing to fortify the entrance to the Bosphorus from the Black Sea.

Montevideo, October 19th.

Montreal special says: Archibald Tschetan has issued, in Le Semaine Religieuse, the organ of the church, a circular denouncing the principles enunciated in their Montreal addresses by Grand Master Workman Powderly and Mr. Wright, as directly opposed to the latest Papal encyclical, and asking the Catholics to remain away from such leaders. The condemnation of the Knights of Labor made by the Church four years ago was suspended, and this caused a large number of Catholics to join the Knights, but the Archibald now threatens to put the condemnation ag-in in force.
